Diwali celebrations at Anbagam

25th October 2019 - CARE shares – Diwali celebrations at Anbagam

To experience the joy of sharing and spread the light of wellness and happiness, faculty and students of Chettinad School of Pharmaceutical Sciences organized Diwali celebrations at Anbagam Home, which is located at Panangattupakkam, Kayar Road on 25/10/2019. Anbagam is a special school with residential facilities for retarded and multiple disabled individuals and is under the administration of the All India Physically Handicapped Welfare Trust. The Undergraduate students of Pharmacy school distributed sweets and snacks to all the inmates who were sheltered in the home. They also entertained them with songs, dance and gifted them specially handcrafted gifts which had been creatively put together by the students themselves. Such trips help the young generation to realize the value of a sound health, both physical and mental, and to appreciate the value of small possessions that may seem insignificant at times. The students were grateful for the enriching experience and to Dr.P.Veeramani, founder and Director of the Institution for giving them an opportunity to meet and interact with the people in need.
