LETTER FROM THE EDITORIAL DESK

"In a world threatened by conflict, inequities, the climate crisis and pandemics, the Seventy-fifth session of the World Health Assembly will stress the importance of building a healthy and peaceful planet by harnessing science, data, technology and innovation" – WHO.

What is this World Health Assembly anyways? They are the ones that are responsible for all the decisions made by the WHO, the Executive Board prepares the specific health agendas that need to be addressed and it is attended by delegates from all WHO member states. This year it is planned to be held from the 22nd of May to the 28th of May in Geneva. Also, they will be appointing the next WHO Director-General this year during the assembly. The whole world was working its way slowly but steadily towards achieving the sustainable development goals, a blueprint to achieve a better and more sustainable future for all. But the recent pandemic has crippled the progress towards the target. It is not enough if we just resume working towards these goals, we need to prioritize and focus on interventions with higher impacts. Much resources and time can be saved if we acknowledge the existing health issues and the basic ways to keep us and everyone around us protected.

The covid-19 daily cases continue to remain low in India but we still have outbreaks occurring in countries worldwide, with newer variants mutating and combining, we must not become carefree. Some of us would have read articles or heard on the news that covid-19 has likely become endemic in some regions, or that in the future covid-19 will likely exist and reinfect us as to how the common cold now does. Some scientists continue to stress the need for the vaccines that prevent Covid-19 completely rather than what it does now and I am sure many of us will agree. But if and until such a time comes it will be beneficial to us, our families and our communities, if we continue to remain vigilant.

The 17 sustainable development goals (SDGs) to transform our world:

GOAL 1: No Poverty

GOAL 2: Zero Hunger

GOAL 3: Good Health and Well-being

GOAL 4: Quality Education

GOAL 5: Gender Equality

GOAL 6: Clean Water and Sanitation

GOAL 7: Affordable and Clean Energy

GOAL 8: Decent Work and Economic Growth

GOAL 9: Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure

GOAL 10: Reduced Inequality

GOAL 11: Sustainable Cities and Communities

GOAL 12: Responsible Consumption and Production

GOAL 13: Climate Action

GOAL 14: Life Below Water

GOAL 15: Life on Land

GOAL 16: Peace and Justice Strong Institutions

GOAL 17: Partnerships to achieve the Goal
