Course Overview

Today many organizations strive to adapt themselves for an unprecedented future. The corporate governance program for working professionals offered by CARE will help them improve their accountability and to circumvent major setbacks. This program will also make the working professionals more amenable to stakeholder concerns. It will equip both the professionals and executives with the knowledge as proficient stewards of shareholders that further will nurture them with long-term and sustainable value creation. Therefore working professionals in addition to their technical responsibilities of a board in guiding an organization through contemporary difficulties they will also get a broad outline of the role of corporate governance and acquire strategic comprehension into the realities of basic facts of board service.
